

This North Vancouver home by Wallmark Custom Homes Ltd. will be included in the 2019 HAVAN Parade of Homes.

This Burnaby custom-built duplex is among the many homes on display at this year's Parade of Homes event.

Parade of Homes set to open its doors

An impressive group of 19 Metro Vancouver residences will welcome the public this weekend

HAVAN — Formerly the Greater Vancouver Home Builders Association — is presenting the annual self-guided Parade of Homes tour June 9 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The event will give tour-goers a chance to check out new and innovative design trends and meet the builders, renovators and designers behind the residential projects.

“Our builders and designers are showcasing an amazing array of inspiring homes on the parade this year, including a new single-family development custom home, luxurious duplex, award-winning laneway, the rezoning of two city lots into five custom homes, and a wide variety of custom renovation solutions,” said HAVAN CEO Ron Rapp in a media release.

Included in the tour are homes from Vancouver, North Vancouver and West Vancouver, Burnaby, Coquitlam, Port Moody and South Delta.

Among them is a custom-built home in the Upper Delbrook neighbourhood of North Vancouver with impressive views, a whole-home renovation of a 1960s bungalow and the VGH and UBC Hospital Foundation Millionaire Lottery prize home in Tsawwassen.

The event is free, but HAVAN is suggesting a $10 donation per family in support of Lower Mainland high school carpentry programs.

For more information, and to access an interactive map of the participating homes, visit the website at www.havan.ca/Parade.
